

Summary

- SALT can help diagnose and describe a variety of oral language disorders - naturalist context.
- There are multiple elicitation contexts that can be used depending on the age and ability of the speaker.
- SALT reference databases are useful for deriving scores compared to age-matched peers, but LSA can also be useful even when not comparing to a reference database.
- LSA is useful for tracking changes in oral language with repeated samples - linking.
- www.saltsoftware.com